

HP Professional Services

Experience to help you now and in the future

Consulting and developing technology strategies for HP Lifecycle Services, HP Manageability Services, and HP Security Services

Solution Strategy Services

Each customer has unique needs and may not have the IT expertise to solve complex technology challenges for their people, processes, and tools on their own.

- Consultation for readiness and support needed to integrate modern IT strategies into your environment
- Leverage HP expertise working with large enterprise organizations and key strategic partners
- Tight integration with HP Lifecycle Services, HP Manageability Services, and HP Security Services

Technical Strategy Services

Leveraging years of best-practice technical experience in designing and implementing hardware and software solutions can help you achieve your goals faster.

- Gather information on the workplace, architecture, tools, technology, and processes
- Identify current environment integration points for future workplace requirements
- Recommend architecture and design solutions based on the requirements, priorities, integration points, and technical roadmap

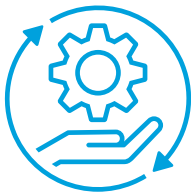

Task-Specific Services

You can count on HP service experts to help your IT organization scale to accomplish strategic projects—from consulting workshops to discovering, designing, and integrating solutions in your environment.

- Support immediate project requirements to enable a path forward
- Provide resources and support for specific IT projects
- Get the help you need to quickly move on areas that are hindering your ability to modernize IT strategies
