HP Performance Advisor

June 2024

Meet your own personal workstation guru

Do you know what's best for your workstation's unique combination of hardware, applications, OS, BIOS, and other system resources? HP Performance Advisor does!

Every time you turn on your new Z by HP Workstation, HP Performance Advisor is ready and waiting to help you get the most out of your computer from day one—and every day after.¹

Always easy

HP Performance Advisor is the simplest and most effective way to make sure your computer is always operating at its optimum potential.

Always helpful

Your workstation environment can evolve as you add hardware and update and patch the system tools you use every day. HP Performance Advisor can help make sure your system adapts to these changes so you can keep working uninterrupted—by telling you how to reallocate resources, monitoring memory usage, and eliminating conflicts—quickly and easily so your system continues running fast and smooth.

Always compiling answers

To help you easily troubleshoot hardware, software, and system issues, HP Performance Advisor compiles detailed system information on one convenient screen. You can even e-mail an easy-to-read report directly to technical support staff for more effective analysis and repair.

Always—and only—HP

You won't find a solution this powerful on any other PC. It's only available on new Z by HP Workstations.

Always start here

From the moment you first boot up your new Z by HP Workstation, HP Performance Advisor is ready to help you maximize your investment. Consider it your own personal tech guru, always reliable and always at your service. Free up your time and your system, for free, with HP Performance Advisor.

What it all means.

HP Performance Advisor lets you spend more time working, processing, and designing and less time troubleshooting your workstation. Below are the basic features and their respective benefits that help you maximize your hardware, applications, and productivity.

How it works

HP Performance Advisor uses a Windows-based interface that focuses on three key areas, for easy navigation of specific performance issues:

- Your Computer: Configures your computer and quickly gains a thorough and accurate understanding of your system's resources and settings.
- Your Software: Tunes your software using tips and advice collected by HP's team of application engineers who work with our software partners every day to help you get the best performance and reliability from your applications.
- Your Performance: Monitors your performance, displays how your system handles your workload, and anticipates what may need to change as your workload evolves.

What it means to you

- Helps you tune your system for maximum application performance
- Provides a consolidated hardware and application report
- Updates automatically,² so you're always working with the latest version
- Increases performance, productivity and stability
- Helps you select the best possible drivers for each application
- Requires low maintenance
- Delivers optimized solutions for benchmarks
- Simplifies future reference and support calls
- Provides quick, easy views of configurations and online technical specifications for each system
