

Empowering the future of work

Access the right technology and tools to stay productive, wherever the office is today.

The world of work is changing, COVID-19 has normalised remote work. Many organisations have said that they will continue to work from home for the foreseeable future.

For companies considering a fully remote workforce or a hybrid model, our innovative products will allow you to work and collaborate from anywhere.

We can help you finance and lease the best-in-class HP hardware for your staff. We will provide a solution for all your technology requirements without putting a strain on your cash flow.

Leasing, rather than purchasing your IT equipment frees up working capital (bank lines) for business expansions or unexpected short-term debts, saving you from having to take out a large loan to buy equipment outright.

We offer conveniently structured quarterly payments, so you can spread the cost across the effective life of the asset, replacing large upfront expenses with lower periodic payments. This makes it easier to budget effectively.

As the definition of the workplace changes, we can work with you to expedite your technology transition on terms that work for your business.

ABOUT HP INTEGRATED FINANCIAL SOLUTIONS:

At HP Integrated Financial Solutions, our goal is to help organisations acquire the right equipment they need to support their business goals and succeed in a competitive market.

We combine market-leading HP products with an effective financial and asset management solution to keep the total cost of ownership down. Unlike CAPEX that is required upfront or a traditional bank loan that includes interest payments, we offer subsidised finance. You only pay for a portion of the equipment for the period that its useful in your environment.

This pay-for-use model offers full scalability, complete flexibility, better resource management, and more agility in a constantly changing business world.

In addition, our reverse logistics process eliminates the hassles of storing and disposing obsolete assets, and when it is time to refresh with new equipment, we can assist with the planned upgrade.
