

HP Mercury Lamps Collection Program

HP provides collection and recycling for HP Mercury Lamps free of charge for HP Customers.

Customers can access HP's mail-back program for Mercury Lamps, by sending an email to sustainability@hp.com, requesting 'HP printer lamp recycling' as the subject, and including the following information:

- Address information:
- Type and quantity of Mercury-containing lamps to recycle (UV / HID lamps):
- Contact information (name and phone number):

After the reception of the email, the customer will receive an email with the mail-back program instructions and will then be sent a mercury lamp recycling kits designed for the safe transport of lamps to the recycler.

Upon reception of the Return kit the customer ships their completed package to the recycler using an included prepaid shipping label.